2. Albereto Castle

This trail runs along the crest from the park of the river Marano to the restored castle of Albereto, almost on the borders of the Republic of San Marino. You start off going towards San Marino, actually, riding through olive groves and vineyards, horse pastures and with a breathtaking view of the Riviera. The course rises continually for the entire first leg, and then you descend again and follow a bike path along the Marano river to the park where the tour ends. This course runs through the municipalities of Coriano and Montescudo along the Marano valley and is rather short, though challenging in the first part and almost completely off-road.
